

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting in progress. On the left, a presentation slide titled "What is Traffic Park" is displayed. The slide includes a logo for "TRAFFIC PARK" and three bullet points: "Traffic Park is a miniature street network equipped with pedestrian crossings, road signs and traffic lights in which children can learn traffic safety from the position of a pedestrian and a cyclist/driver while riding bicycles, go-karts, etc. and interacting with pedestrians (figure 1).", "Traffic parks are also known as transportation parks or traffic gardens or safety villages in various countries.", and "To be a traffic park, the ground should have installed or designed simulated road network with various traffic signs and lights (moveable or permanent), and pedestrian crossings. Other equipment and facilities such as sidewalk, bicycles, go-karts, small electric cars, swings, slides, a playground, public toilet, benches, an administrative office etc. should be installed but not required." An aerial photograph of a traffic park is shown, with a caption: "Figure 1. Toyohashi Traffic park (source: google map)". The slide number "2" is visible in the bottom right corner. On the right side of the Zoom window, a grid of seven participants is visible, each in their own video frame.
